

Free up business capital with the Tennessee Valley Security Deposit Program

Local electric companies in the Tennessee Valley appreciate our business customers and want to support your efforts to be more competitive in today's marketplace. One way we are doing that is by offering the Tennessee Valley Security Deposit Program, which gives qualifying businesses an alternative to tying up valuable capital.

The Tennessee Valley Security Deposit Program is available to commercial and industrial electric customers through a partnership between TVA and participating distributors of TVA power. The program allows the waiver or refund of electric utility deposits to qualifying customers. The process is simple, quick, and free.

Program participation—

The program is open to creditworthy commercial and industrial customers with an average monthly billing of greater than 50 kW.

Here's how it works—

- Local electric power distributor representatives work with selected business customers to prepare a credit application.
- The power distributor then completes the credit application by nominating the electric customer for program participation and submitting it to a third-party underwriter for review. In some cases, the underwriter may request additional financial information about your company.
- The underwriter will evaluate the information and provide a decision to your power distributor within five business days.
- Upon approval, your distributor will waive or refund the electric utility deposit.
- Customer participation in the program will be periodically reviewed for continuation.

Call your local electric power distributor for more information about the Tennessee Valley Security Deposit Program—another value-add service of the public power companies of the Tennessee Valley.